

Educating Students on Census Could Benefit Parents

4/8/2010 ABC Eyewitness News

Sponsored by the Asian American Federation, Asian Professional Extension (APEX) has organized a citywide student poster contest for Census 2010. The contest encourages students in grades K through 12 to educate themselves, their families, and their communities about the importance of the ongoing U.S. Census.

The poster contest, You Count! was the basis for the April 8, 2010 ABC Eyewitness News report, "Educating Students on Census Could Benefit Parents." A video of the report can be viewed at <http://abclocal.go.com/wabc/video?id=7375799>.
